WE Finance Code
Community of Champions
2026 Peer Learning Program

The WE Finance Code Community of Champions (CoC) is a global peer learning community made up of national Code champions who share best practices across implementing countries. The CoC consists of leaders from Central Banks and other FSP regulators; supply-side data aggregators; main FSP Code signatories and/or their trade associations; National Code coordinators and other ecosystem actors working to build and implement the Code.

The 2026 Peer Learning Program is designed and delivered by the Women Entrepreneurs Finance Initiative (We-Fi) in partnership with the Financial Alliance for Women and OECD. The peer learning sessions and trainings are complemented by knowledge products available on www.wefinancecode.org.

Community of Champions Meeting Schedule

The CoC will convene for four webinars and one in-person event:

- March 12 (Online): Collecting and Reporting Data on the WE Finance Code Indicators: Global Process and Insights from Code Countries

The WMSMEs Gender Data Learning Series

The WMSMEs Gender Data Learning Series is a rigorous training program developed by the Financial Alliance for Women focused on guiding participants through a step-by-step journey to sex-disaggregate their data (for all clients and specifically WMSMEs).

The program features guest experts sharing practical know-how and tools for sex disaggregating MSMEs data and using it to drive market development. It equips WE Finance Code Signatories including FSPs and data aggregators with the know-how to develop or enhance their institution's gender data usage and reporting.

Learning Journey Schedule

Through a 5-week program combining online self-paced learning modules with live sessions, participants will be able to access tools and develop skills in their own time as well as meet virtually as a group to gain insights from global experts and engage with peer practitioners.

- May 14 (Online): Starting your Gender Data Journey
- May 21 (Online): Setting the Right Direction
- May 28 (Online): Data Planning & Integrating Gender into Data Systems
- June 4 (Online): Data Capturing
- June 11 (Online): Using Gender Data to Drive Business Decisions

Who Attends?

The program is designed for teams looking to enhance their sex-disaggregated data analytics. This includes data practitioners (i.e., business intelligence team at FSPs and data aggregators) as well as Women's Markets managers and senior business decision-makers at FSPs. CoC members are also welcome to attend.
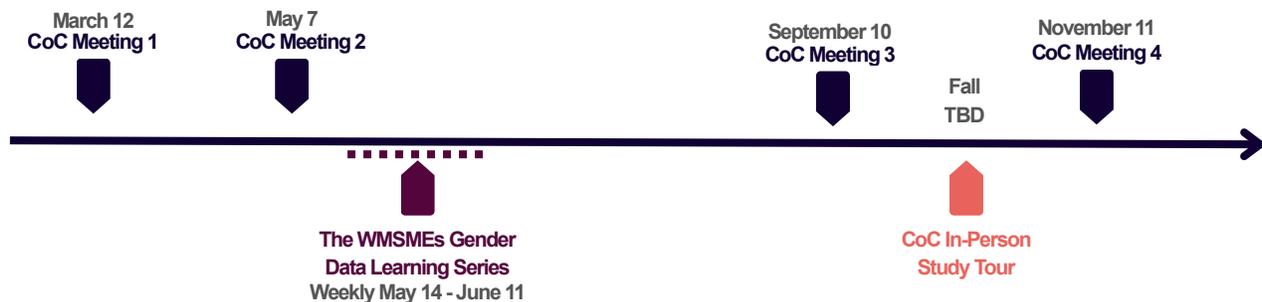

How to Register

The WMSMEs Gender Data Learning Series online is by invitation only. Spots are limited and participants must commit to the full 5-week program, including the guided self-paced learning modules and live sessions. Registration information will be provided as it becomes available.

Timing

The Learning Series features five live Zoom webinars taking place from 1:00 - 2:30 pm GMT. Participants should also complete an online course on the Financial Alliance for Women learning platform each week in-between live sessions.
